MOKENA BOARD TAKES SEATS

In appointing standing committees that will serve the Mokena board of trustees for the coming year, Mayor John R. Scarth adopted a new policy this year. No chairmen have been designated so that each committee member is equally responsible for carrying out its functions. Some committees, whose duties are more numerous than others, are given a larger membership. The mayor, by virtue of his office, is a member of all the committees.

The appointments were made at the organization meeting of the Mokena board last night when the three members elected April 19th, were sworn in and took their seats.

The oath was administered by the village clerk, Alvin Sorenson.

The officers elected last month were Raymond Westlund, Willard Munch and Lyman Teague. Teague was an incumbent. Westlund and Munch are new members.

The retiring officers are Edward Hentsch and Russell Anderson.

Mayor Scarth commended Mr. Hentsch for his service to the community as a member of the water committee, pointing out that it had won many friends.

Members of the committees appointed by the mayor are: Water and public property: Charles Burkhardt, Raymond Westlund, Willard Munch and David McMillan.

Streets and alleys: George Bills, McMillan, Munch and Burkhardt.

Finance: Westlund, Bills and Lyman Teague.

Police: McMillan, Burkhardt and Westlund.

Building and zoning: Munch, Teague and Westlund.

Claims: Bills, Teague, Munch and McMillan.

There were a couple of items of business disposed of by the board. Approval was given of a change in plans for the subdivision of Norval Robinson, located at Wolf road and LaPorte roads. The change calls for construction of a 66 foot street running north off of LaPorte road, through the subdivision.

The other piece of business was disposed of as far as the board was concerned although no solution was immediately forthcoming. The trustees felt that it was a problem that could be solved easier by parents than by village authorities.

It was brought before the board by Mrs. Anthony Dina. She said that she had noticed quite a few small children trying to ride big bicycles along Front street, which makes for a dangerous situation. Youngsters are unable to control bicycles that are too large for them, Mrs. Dina said, so they go wobbling about the street, out of control and she is afraid some of them may be injured, either through being struck by a car or by a fall. A bike to fit the tyke appears to be the solution, it was said.

HAPPY HE WITH SUCH A MOTHER

By Alfred Tennyson.
Yet was there one . . .
Not learned, save in gracious household ways,
Not perfect, nay, full of tender wants,
No Angel, but a dearer being, all dipt
In Angel instincts, breathing Paradise,
Interpreter between the Gods and men,
Who look'd all native to her place . . . Happy he
With such a mother! faith in womankind
Beats with his blood, and trust in all things high
Comes easy to him, and though he trip and fall
He shall not blind his soul with clay.

Col. John Tilsy, Once of Goodings Grove, Dies in East

Funeral services for Col. John Tilsy who died unexpectedly April 26, were held in Fayetteville, N. C. Col. Tilsy was born Oct. 29, 1898, in Goodings Grove, the son of William and Sarah Ross Tilsy. He graduated from Joliet township high school and the University of Illinois, and served in World War I and II, having enlisted in 1918. He was made a colonel three weeks ago.

Col. Tilsy served his country with distinction in uniquely related careers; first as soldier, and then as civilian official in a branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, at Fayetteville, N. C.

In an editorial appearing in the Fayetteville Observer, North Carolina's oldest newspaper, it is stated: "As District Soil Conservationist here for 10 years, Col. Tilsy applied his characteristic energy and ability and succeeded eminently in getting the 'message' across to farmers in this country. Scores of planters in this and other years will revere the memory of the man whose encouragement, advice and assistance caused them to add the irrigation system, seed the cover crop, or build the terrace that brought them rich dividends in the maximum yields from the soil."

Col. Tilsy was married on May 26, 1933, to Mary Shaw Bryan, of Fayetteville. He is survived, besides his wife, by his sister, Mrs. Charles (Edith) Ulrich and a nephew, William Harold Tilsy, both of Goodings Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich and the nephew flew to Fayetteville last Tuesday, to attend the funeral, which was a military one, held the following day.

Correction

In last week's issue of the News-Bulletin a front page item stated that Sorny's confectionery store, located on Front st., Mokena, had added a line of bakery goods, which is delivered to the store fresh daily with the exception of Wednesdays. This should have read "with the exception of Mondays."

Carolyn Dina and Ervin Hentsch of Mokena Take Vows

Carolyn Dina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dina, of Mokena, and Mr. Ervin Hentsch son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hentsch, Mokena, were united in marriage at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, April 23, at the Immanuel Lutheran church, Mokena. Rev. A. W. Gode officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Pink and white snapdragons in altar vases lent a pale beauty to the wedding scene. Organist was Ronald Welandar, of Chicago. Miss Marion Andres, of Tinley Park sang "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore a tulle gown, with sleeves and neckline of painted lace. She wore a fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Marion Senglin of Mokena, the maid of honor, wore a floor-length blue net tulle dress with bolero jacket and pink net hat, and carried a pink carnation colonial bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Miss Mildred Scogin of Lockport, and Miss JoAnn Sutterlin, Chicago, cousin of the bride. Miss Nancy Long, cousin of the groom, was junior bridesmaid. All wore dresses matching the maid of honor's, excepting Nancy Long, who wore pink instead of blue.

Evanis Schumann, of Chicago four year old cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a pink net tulle dress, net hat and carried a small flower basket with mixed pink rose petals.

Danny Dina, four year old brother of the bride, was ring bearer. He wore a tuxedo and carried a heart shaped satin pillow.

Walter Hentsch, brother of the groom, was best man. Anthony Dina, Jr., and Michael Dina, brothers of the bride, and Robert Kreml, all of Mokena, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a pink polished shantung with full skirt and jacket, and pink rosebuds in her hair. The groom's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress, and a pink rose corsage.

Present at the wedding ceremony also were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Gibson, of Chicago.

A reception was held in the VFW hall following the ceremony, which was attended by more than 500 guests. Serving at the bridal table were Misses JoAnn Yepsen, Joan Sippel and Rose Chah, all of Tinley Park. Mrs. Joyce Schultz of Mokena presided at the coffee urn, Mrs. Rose Anzalone, the bride's aunt, served the wedding cake, and Miss Mary Goddard of Mokena had charge of the guest book.

The VFW Woman's Auxiliary post served a dinner to all the guests in the basement of the hall, who also enjoyed dancing to music furnished by George Klinger of Mokena and his five piece orchestra.

The bride's traveling outfit consisted of a brown suit with green accessories. The young couple left for a 10 day trip in the south. They will make their home with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hentsch.

The bride is employed by the Welsch Lumber Co. in Mokena, and the groom, who is a veteran of World War II, is employed at the Mokena Wallpaper mill.

Walter Pfaff is the village clerk.

Mokena Fire Dept. To Give 10th Annual Dance

The Mokena volunteer fire department will give their 10th annual dance and pinocle tournament Saturday evening, May 14 in the VFW hall on Wolf road. Festivities will begin at 8 o'clock and, as in the past, there will be many substantial prizes offered. Purpose of the dance and pinocle tournament, is to build up funds for the operation and maintenance of the fire department.

Aside from an evening of great enjoyment which is in store for all who attend, it should be remembered that it is something in the nature of a duty to attend, or at least support the venture, by some monetary donation. When the fire siren blows, members of the Mokena volunteer fire department drop their work, whatever it may be, and answer the call. If the fire siren blows at midnight, or in the faint hours before dawn, the men are up and on their way, winter or summer, spring or fall, to save life and property. No questions are asked.

Everybody comes in for this protection, which is worth a great deal in both peace of mind and financially.

It should be remembered, too, that our territory is expanding. More and more homes are being built every month, and all want to be included within the radius of the volunteer fire department's protection. Newcomers to this area are especially invited to come and get acquainted with their neighbors and other townspeople at this dance and pinocle tournament. They can be assured of a wonderful time, as these annual affairs have been gaining in prestige from year to year since they were first started 10 years ago. It is a family event that no one who has ever been there will want to miss.

Two tickets and four 25c donations receipts have been mailed by the volunteer fire department to every family in village and vicinity. Ticket payments and donations may be made in Boleman's drug store, at Cooper & Hostert's garage, or by mail.

The presentation of athletic awards was again the high light of the annual spring meeting of the Mokena P.T.A., held in the form of a potluck supper that has become traditional in connection with the event.

Fifteen girls—champion volleyball players—and 24 boys—members of the Mokena grade school basketball teams, received awards and the cheer leaders also were honored.

Coach Herbert Wrath made the presentations following a talk outlining the school's athletic program and the lessons to be learned thru competitive sports. He also reviewed the youngsters' records and accomplishments of the past year.

Coach Wrath made an excellent job of the presentations, fitting his words and phrases to each individual pupil.

Special recognition was given the girls' volleyball team because of its excellent record. The Mokena team wound up the season as co-champions of the DesPlaines Valleys conference. Each girl also received an individual trophy.

The basketball teams failed to wind up with a championship but received four trophies in recompense for their fine work this year.

Two of the trophies came for two second place finishes in conference play and two were for third place wins in two tournaments entered this past season.

And each boy who played on this year's team also was given a letter.

Girls who received awards are:

Kay Swinford, Carol Egness, Claudia Halverson, Barbara Daugherty and Sharon Cappel.

Madeline Semick, Gerriann Hull, Carol Gilmore, Carolyn Schwartz and Beverly Johnson.

Margaret Jones, Karen Anderson, Patricia Dath, Phyllis Hack and Sandra Swinford.

Boys receiving awards are: Mark Muehler, Ronald Yunker, Danny Carroll, John Kropp, Sandy Westman and Thomas Williams.

Bob Manzke, Joe Kruzich, Tom Powers, Gordon Richardson, Bill Severson and Mike Dina.

Ronald Ford, Kenneth Lorenz, Jerry Haehtlein, Allen Schult, Allan Creer and Douglas Porick.

ON HONOR ROLL

The name of Frederick Louis Lehmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Lehmann, of Mokena, appeared on the honor list released by Oberlin college, Oberlin, O. The list, which included students of outstanding academic achievement in the classes of the college of arts and sciences and the conservatory of music, was made at the annual Honors Day assembly held at the college May 5.

Blame Juveniles For Dangerous Prank on Highway

Teen agers are blamed for a prank that could have caused serious injury or death.

Work on the widening of Wolf road south of Orland Park makes it necessary for the contractor to mark the portions under construction with flares and barricades.

A few nights ago state police were notified by a passing motorist that most of the highway was blocked. Police found that barricades and flares had been removed from the edges of the highways where the shoulders had been dug out—and moved in on the highway in zig-zag lines, some of them being out in the middle, and one started to burn by having a flare light right next to it.

Motorists attempting to clear the barricades on the highway could have gone off the edge and overturned with serious consequences, it was pointed out by police.

TAX COLLECTOR BEGINS WORK IN TOWNSHIP

Collection of taxes in Frankfort township is now underway. T. W. A. Collector, Burnett Schram, of Frankfort, is dividing his time between the two villages. He was in Mokena yesterday, May 4, and will be there again on May 14, 18 and 28 at the Cooper and Hostert garage. In Frankfort he will use Pfaff's barbershop as his office and will be there to receive tax payments May 7, 11, 21, 25 and 31.

The tax rate for 1954 on property within the corporate limits of Frankfort and Mokena are slightly higher in both, as compared to those in force for the tax year of 1953.

The total rate for persons living in the village of Mokena for 1954—which is the year on which you are now paying taxes—is approximately $2.70 per $100 of assessed valuation as compared with $2.67½ cents in 1953.

The total rate in Frankfort for 1954 is $3.039 as compared to $3.029 for 1953. A glance at the figures carried below will show that the village tax for Frankfort is lower for 1954 than it was in 1953. Frankfort taxpayers will have an additional tax next year when the levy is made for the police protection tax voted in at the village election April 19.

The village rate for Mokena of .144 cents per $100 assessed valuation, has been unchanged for years.

Residents of the village of Frankfort are in elementary school district 157-C while the village school district in Mokena is No. 159. All of Frankfort township is in the Lincoln-Way high school district, No. 210.

The tax rates for persons living in Frankfort township, but outside of village limits, vary according to the elementary school districts in which they reside.

For the information of those who wish to compare rates for the past two years, here are the figures:

The deadline for tax payments is June 1, for all personal property and for the first installment on real estate. Up to that date taxes should be paid to the township collectors. After June 1 County Treasurer Floyd Krapf will take over the collection and taxes may be paid then in person or by mail at the treasurer's office in the courthouse at Joliet.

At his last meeting the county board authorized State's Attorney Frank H. Masters Jr. to take what legal steps may become necessary to collect delinquent property taxes. Before the state's attorney can proceed in such a matter he must have been authorized to do so by the board of supervisors, according to court decisions.

Excessive speed was the principal cause of traffic accidents in 1954.

With corn planting drawing near, farmers should give careful thought to their cropping plans from the standpoint of the 1955 corn allotment program. This advice was given today by Roy Smith, chairman, of the local Agricultural Stabilization Committee.

Some time ago, continued Mr. Smith, producers on all known corn farms were issued official allotment notices. Only those farmers who comply with such allotments will be eligible for price support. It is, therefore, suggested that these notices be carefully checked for correctness and farm identity because any mistakes which are made now may affect this year's allotment. The price support rate for the county has not yet been announced, but the minimum national support has been set at $1.53 per bushel, which is but four cents less than for 1954.

Smith said any producer who is interested in the corn crop on more than one farm either as owner or operator should be extremely cautious because the corn acreage on one farm may affect his eligibility on all farms. In order to be eligible for price support on any given farm, the total corn acreage on all farms in the commercial area in which the producer is interested must be within the total of the allotment for all such farms. Even though this total requirement is met, eligibility will apply only to those farms on which there is compliance with the specific farm allotment.

Rather complicated situations often arise when a producer has a single interest in one farm and is involved, along with other parties, or as a part of an unsettled estate, legal partnership or business enterprise, etc., on another farm. Full detail on these types of cases may be obtained at his office, Mr. Smith said, and added:

"It is our further advice that farmers who desire to cooperate should try to make certain that their original plantings are made within the allotment. However, in the event some error is made there is opportunity this year to reduce the acreage to the allotment, provided such acreage is plowed or disked under, or is totally destroyed by causes beyond the farmer's control, and provided, too, that such takes place by August 1. Any situation of this nature should immediately be called to our attention. A second inspection will be required in such cases and a nominal fee will be charged. Farmers should recognize, too, that for purposes of future programs, full credit will be given if the corn acreage is within 90 percent of the allotment."

"In view of this special reduction privilege," continued the chairman, "every endeavor will be made to check farm acreage at an early date. To accomplish this big job, the full cooperation of all farms will be required. We urge this cooperation and ask that someone be available to assist someone when he calls at the farm to determine the corn acreage. This, we are certain, will be to the advantage of our farmers as well as to us."

Cancer Drive Nets $414 in Mokena Area

The 1955 Will County cancer drive has now come to a close. A total of $414.21 was realized for the Mokena area.

Mrs. Herbert Wrath, chairman, and Mrs. Fred Ricketts, co-chairman, wish to express their appreciation and thanks to the townspeople who were so generous with their contributions, and to the following women who were so kind and considerate as to give up their own time to solicit for such a worthy cause:

Horse Clears Fence, Wrecks Auto Driven By George Beutel

George Beutel, of Mokena, proprietor of the Beutel Nash auto agency at 67 Scott St., Joliet, was injured in a peculiar highway accident Wednesday, April 27, about midnight. Mr. Beutel was driving home on U. S. 30, and had just passed the round barn east of the Wabash tracks in New Lenox when a horse, which had jumped the fence, reared up in front of him and crashed down on his fender and windshield. Mr. Beutel tried to dodge the animal, but its appearance in the darkness was so sudden that he was unable to avoid the crash.

Mr. Beutel was cut below the eye and across the nose with splinters of glass. Officer Robert Georgantas of the State Highway Police took him to Silver Cross hospital where first aid was administered, with an anti-tetanus shot. Mr. Beutel remained at the hospital for a short time and then was driven back by officer Georgantas. His car was left in the farmer's yard.

The horse, which was so badly injured it had to be killed, belonged to the daughter of John Edgen, of 115 Berry ave., New Lenox. Damage to the car, which was covered by insurance, will amount to about $600, Mr. Beutel said.

METHODISTS TO HONOR FOUNDER

From most of the towns and cities in northern Illinois, Methodists will go on a pilgrimage to Rockefeller chapel on the Midway campus of the University of Chicago Sunday afternoon, May 8.

There they will commemorate the religious conversion which made their founder, John Wesley, a little British clergyman, the spiritual founder of a religious denomination which number more than 9-million members in the U. S. and foreign countries.

Bishop Charles Wesley Brashares, head of the Methodists in Illinois, will preach at 4 p.m. His theme will be: "The Mind That Warned Its Heart."

The choir of First Methodist church, Evanston, Dr. Austin Lovelace, director, will present a musical program. There will be a colorful procession of Methodist clergy in gowns and aca-

"Christian evangelism is having a new day in our twentieth century world," said Bishop Brashares, looking forward to the celebration. "In a day when Billy Graham is speaking practically to the entire population of certain European nations, we Methodists can well remind ourselves of the evangelistic movement which brought our denomination to its birth."

STATE BEGINS WIDENING OF WOLF ROAD

The state highway department has started work on a highway widening project that has been urged for several years.

Wolf road is being widened four feet—two feet on each side—between 143rd street, Orland Park, south to the Charles Liess corner at the junction of Wolf road and Route 6.

The surface will be blacktopped then, thus bringing about an improvement that has been sought for some time.

Traffic on Wolf road has grown to such an extent that the narrow width is becoming extremely hazardous. The additional two feet on either side will give drivers a margin of safety in passing that they lack now, it was pointed out.

After these improvements are completed there is still much to be done on the Wolf road in this area, it was pointed out.

Winter Took Road Toll
Mokena residents complain that the highway is in need of resurfacing in other sections too and say that for that matter the entire stretch from the Liess corner to Route 30—should be treated in this fashion and the roadway widened.

The past winter, with its many periods of radical temperature changes, was hard on roads of all types, according to engineers.

Illinois is considerably behind on its road program. During the war little if anything was done in keeping up highways, despite the fact that they were given extra hard usage thru the transport of war material by truck. The result, it was explained, was that so much was needed to be done that the state hasn't had the time or money to do the job.

Lack Engineers
The highway department has been letting contracts as speedily as possible and Governor Stratton also has been bringing pressure to bear to get more road work done so this year and the next should see some improvement in the work schedule, it was said. One of the handicaps under which the highway department has been laboring, it was said, has been the lack of engineers.

Private business pays better salaries than does government with the result that many states and other political subdivisions

WARN FARMERS TO PLANT CORN AFTER MAY 10

The Agricultural department has issued warnings to the effect that farmers in this and other sections in northern Illinois should not plant corn until after May 10. Entomologists warn of an infestation of corn borers. The recent warm weather has stimulated the growth of these borers, and continued warm weather will play still further into their hands, making it more dangerous to plant corn now.

A great many farmers, because of the early spring, are ahead with their work, and it may be a considerable temptation to plant their corn now, but prudence dictates that they wait until after May 10. At that time, too, there will be less danger of frost.

County Officials Explain Duties to Social Study Class

The Lincoln-Way freshman social studies classes invited six of the Will county officials to talk to them in connection with a study of county government. County Judge John C. Cowling, Treasurer Floyd Krapf, State's Attorney Frank H. Masters, Jr., Sheriff Roy C. Doerflinger, Probation Officer Paul Ohmann and County Superintendent of Schools, Verne Cracker discussed with the students the duties, qualifications and functions of the various offices. This first hand insight into the workings of the offices of these officials gave the students a much greater understanding and appreciation of their county government.

All the officials stressed the need for these youngsters to be concerned with the workings of their government on all levels of operation.

The students were well pleased with the response of the county officials and thanked them for their cooperation.

Oh, For the Life --And Steaks-- Of An Infantryman

Rice is the principal item on the diet of native Koreans but for the G. I.'s on service there, steaks, thick luscious steaks, hold top billing on the menus. Rice, as far as the G. I.'s are concerned, is for the birds.

At least that is the impression Mrs. Arlo Halvorson has after a telephone conversation with her husband, Corp. Halvorson who is serving with Hdq. Co. of the 31st. Infantry, as a senior wireman.

Mrs. Halvorson and the couple's son, Mike, are staying with her brother-in-law and sister in Frankfort, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Burdes. Last Friday she received word that she would two years have shown that soil get a telephone call from her insecticides more than pay for husband on Saturday and on themselves in increased stands.

Saturday the call came through. The call was of eight minutes duration, during which the corporal was brought up to the minute on family and local news.

As for himself, the corporal said, he was feeling fine and eating well. Luscious steaks, he said, were on the menu daily and if one wanted more steak all he had to do was ask for it. So far, he said, he hasn't tired of this beef binge.

Coporal Halvorson is due for discharge Aug. 31.

If he is lucky he will have become fed up, so to speak, with steaks by that time because the corporal will find that multiple steak diet in civilian life practically calls for a government subsidy.

You can make surplus winter rye from pasture into satisfactory silage if you cut it in the early heading-out stage and will get it for two or three hours before you put it up.

Farmer experience and re-Willard Burdes. Last Friday she search work in Illinois the past received word that she would two years have shown that soil get a telephone call from her insecticides more than pay for husband on Saturday and on themselves in increased stands.

Woman's League Winds up Season At New Lenox Lanes

The New Lenox Women's
bowling league ended its regular bowling season with Bright Lanes coming from behind 'to win the coveted championship.
Hauck Oil Co.'s team, bowling for the first year, went into the last night leading by one-half game but were nosed out by the "old timers" in a roaring windup.
It was a close contest with nearly every one of the 12 teams having held first place at one time during the season. Hauck's team deserves special mention as the only team whose attendance was 100 percent perfect for the season.

There are 19 who made the 500 club and 12 who made the 200 club. These girls received pins at the bowling banquet held May 4, at Valley View Farm restaurant. The trophy was presented that night to the winners who in turn presented it to their sponsors, the Davidsons, who operate Bright Lanes.

Officers for the past year were president Betty Eden, vice president Peg Elliott, treasurer Betty Klasing, secretary, Mim
Minton and sergeant at arms,
Doris Brown.

PLAY TO OPEN ON JUNE 13 IN BOTH SECTIONS

Play in the Small Fry Baseball league is to begin June 13
in both the Northern and Southern divisions.

Interest in this area naturally will center on play in the Northern division as it is made up of New Lenox, Mokena, Frankfort, Manhattan, Orland Park and Tinley Park.

The Southern division is comprised of teams from Grant Park, Peotone, Monee, Matteson, Beecher and St.eger.

But at the end of the season
the winners of the two divisions will meet for the championship and then there will be a sudden scurry for information on opposing players. The date for the championship game will be announced later but it is expected that it will be played the latter part of July.

Date for the all star game in the Northern Division is to be held sometime early in July, also to be announced later.
Five games are to be played in each division in June and a like number in July.

The schedule for the Northern division follows:

LAW LIMITS GRAND JURIES TO YES OR NO

Grand juries are strictly limited by statutes as to what their reports shall include, and inclusion of other matters in such reports is surplusage which could result in libel action or contempt of court proceedings, according to an opinion given by Attorney General Latham Castle in response to a question asked by the Lake county state's attorney.

This may come as a surprise to some persons who have become accustomed to the use of grand juries for political bushwhacking, but not in Will county.

Circuit Judge James V. Bartley of Will county, has long held that a grand jury has a two-fold function, to indict or absolve after an investigation. A grand jury, he has often pointed out, may properly include the indictments, the no true bills, and a report on the county jail and treatment of prisoners.

Attorney General Castle makes these points in his report and goes on to say that since the statutes limit the acts of the grand jury "the inclusion of scandalous or libelous matters such as charging a court with bias or favoritism to criminals" may constitute contempt. And a "report which reflects unfavorably upon the conduct and character of public officials or citizens, unless supported by an indictment, may be expunged from the record."

And of considerable importance to the grand jurors personally is that the attorney general points out that it has been held that "a report by a grand jury upon the conduct of a public official unaccompanied by an indictment, where such a report is unauthorized by statute is not privileged and may expose the jury members to action for libel."

Eager beavers who would rush in to offer testimony before a grand jury without having been summoned as witnesses can be held for contempt of court, it has been held in Illinois.

Once some years ago in Will county a grand jury brought in a report criticizing one of the county officials and making accusations reflecting upon his reputation and integrity yet failing to return any indictment.

Later this report was expunged from the records of the court. It was shown that the report was politically inspired.

It has been pointed out that if some such restriction was not placed on a grand jury, a grand jury could become a powerful weapon in the hands of an unscrupulous state's attorney bent on keeping political control. A threat to bring in a report smearing the name and reputation of a public official or citizen unless he obeyed the demands of a state's attorney would be quite a blackmail weapon, it has been said frequently, so the courts have put thumbs down on such practices in most counties.

Grand jurors, it was explained, hear only one side of a case and in practically all cases are guided in their acts by the recommendations of a state's attorney.

There are many in the state who favor abolition of the grand jury system, as no longer necessary.

In early days when travel was difficult and communications poor, a grand jury filled a vital need it was explained. A grand jury is made up by drawing a person from each township and in early days these jurors reported on conditions in their respective towns.

But with today's roads, and means of transportation, and communication, the grand jury is not necessary, it is claimed, and opponents of the system say it is clumsy and tedious, contending that the use of information rather than indictments would be more efficient in this modern day. They counter the claim that the use of information would give a state's attorney too much power, that just the opposite would be true.

They contend that defendants named in an information would be entitled to an immediate hearing before a court and the truth or falsity of the charges more quickly determined.

There are many arguments to be said on both sides of the question.

The increase in demand for electric power is expected to be 10 per cent per year for the next several years, but efficiency in consumption will keep down total coal tonnage. The plants coming into service in the near future will use even less coal to produce one kilowatt hour of electricity than today's most efficient plant, which does the job with around 0.75 of a pound of coal.

Recognition of Hazard Big Step Toward Safety

The first step in farm safety is to be able to recognize hazards. The next step is to do something about removing those you see, says O. L. Hogsett, extension farm safety specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Rundown condition of equipment and buildings is the most common cause of farm safety hazards, Hogsett points out. Help to prevent accidents by keeping both buildings and equipment in good repair.

Rubbish in basements or attics; ashes kept in wood or paper containers, clothes dried too near a stove, an open or paper-covered flue hole in chimney, a tractor stored in a hay barn - these are all danger spots where a serious and expensive fire might start.

Some machines and tools, like axes, circular saws, disc harrows, corncripers and tractors, are hazardous either because of their design or the way in which they are used. And a good way to cause an accident is to start a fire with kerosene, refuel a tractor while it is hot, adjust or clean machines without stopping the power unit or allow children to ride on machines.

Another hazard for animals as well as for people is equipment left scattered around the farmstead. For safety, provide a safe place for everything, and then keep everything in its place.

WHEAT ALLOTMENTS

Farmers on land which no wheat was seeded for grain for any of the years 1953, 1954, and 1955 may apply for a 1956 wheat acreage allotment, according to Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the Cook county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee. To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC committee by August 31, 1955.

Blank application forms are available at the county ASC office for use in filing requests for allotments.

Find Small Percent Of Builders Show Building Permits

(CNS)—A team of 50 special investigators, sent out to find out if builders are violating the law in the unincorporated area of Cook County, discovered that at least the builders are violating a Building and Zoning Bureau regulation.

The regulation calls for builders to display prominently on each house under construction a sign attesting to the fact that a permit has been issued for the building.

Of 1,768 buildings—mostly homes—observed to be under construction by a special task force of 50 highway engineers who went out over the weekend only 415 displayed the required cards.

That is less than one-fourth, highway superintendent William Mortimer pointed out. Mortimer, who is chief enforcement officer for the building and zoning codes, ordered the inspection after spot checks showed that some homes were being constructed without building permits.

Mortimer commented that many of the buildings which did not display permit cards have undoubtedly had permits taken out. He said he will call in his inspectors to find out why the builders were not compelled to comply with the department regulation calling for the cards to be displayed.

Best record of any of the townships surveyed was that of Niles township. There one house was under construction and one permit card was displayed.

In Norwood township, however, 114 buildings were under construction and not one card was in. In Brown township, only 2 of 108 houses under construction displayed cards.

Work for a penny?

You bet he does!

Public Service Company's
LITTLE BILL still runs all these for pennies a day!

32 cups of coffee made automatically for a penny's worth of electricity.

2 hours of TV entertainment yours for 2½ cents' worth of electricity.

For a cent or two a week an electric vacuum will clean your whole house.

A week's wash—3¢. Done automatically with your electric washer.

How Public Service Company keeps your electric bill down (while everything else goes up)

Today your family uses lots more electricity than ever before. And you're getting almost twice as much of it for your money as you did 25 years ago.

One reason is Public Service Company's constantly improved equipment. This year 2 new, high-efficiency generators are going into service. One of these operates so economically it can convert 1 pound of Illinois coal into 1 kilowatt-hour. (That's 18.7% better than the average.)

So, while the cost of living's doubled, electricity still costs you less per kilowatt-hour than it did 25 years ago.

IAA MAGAZINE SAYS BANG'S ON WAY OUT

Undulant fever victims will rejoice to learn that farmers and veterinarians are reported to be nearing completion of their campaign to stamp out bovine brucellosis—sometimes called Bang's disease.

That doesn't help those that have been infected with this ailment but they are glad in that if Bang's disease is stamped out there will be few cases of undulant fever.

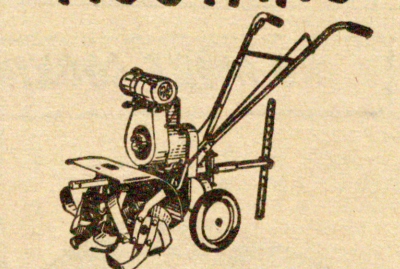

Undulant fever is transmitted to human beings not only thru the use of products stemming from Bang's diseased cattle, but also thru hogs and sheep, it was pointed out, but bovine brucellosis is rated as the major cause, it is said.

A Miserable Ailment
Undulant fever, sometimes known as Malta fever, holds its victims in bondage for years and years. The disease, some of the sufferers claim, is something like a mixture of flu and malaria, and it hangs on for years and years.

Some years ago Will county appeared to be headquarters for undulant fever in this area, according to reports of doctors and clinics and its treatment is difficult.

An article in the current issue of the IAA Record, the official monthly publication of the Illinois Agricultural association,

The Mighty Little MUSTANG

BOLENS M-E Rotary Tiller

Midwest Hatchery

tells how more than 300 veterinarians literally are working 'round the clock in their final drive to eradicate brucellosis.

"Armed with nearly $1,000,000 in federal and state funds, 362 accredited veterinarians are about to deliver the knock out punch to a disease that's been around much too long to suit farmers," according to the article.

Some Services Free
"Illinois farmers are well ahead of neighboring states in the race to stamp out brucellosis," the state farm bureau magazine article continues.

As the eradication program nears the end, however, the article cautions all farmers to make sure they follow up ring tests with blood tests on each cow in their herds.

Ring tests usually are performed by commercial dairies. They reveal any brucellosis infection in a given dairy or beef herd.

Blood tests are needed, however, in finding a diseased animal in a herd where positive ring test results turn up, the article points out.

In reporting a stepped up disease eradication program, the article urges farmers to take advantage of the free services available to them.

"These free services consist of vaccination serums for calves and both ring and blood tests for the older animals," the article emphasizes.

Full information for farmers wanting to know more about these free services is available in offices of the county farm bureaus.

From a fiscal standpoint the Republican administration in Washington has been a success during the past two years. The last Truman budget called for $77.9 billion as compared with the budget of $62.4 billion for fiscal year 1956—a reduction of $15.5 billion. For every person in America this means an average reduction in Federal taxes from $484 per year to $374 per year—a saving of $110 per year for every man, woman, and child in the nation.

President Truman estimated a deficit for 1954 of $10 billion. Under the Republicans that deficit was cut to $3 billion. The present estimate of a deficit for 1956 is $2.5 billion. However, if expenditures are kept within the budget estimates and the receipts turn out to be greater than estimated—as the writer freely predicts as a result of the revisiting federal tax code—we will have a balanced budget by the end of fiscal 1956.

Not a bad record to go to the people with during the next campaign.

Federal Payroll Reduction
Two years ago when the Republicans took over in Washington there were 2,554,310 civilians on the Federal payroll with total annual salaries of $9,986,386,000. In December 1954 there were 2,368,072 civilians on the Federal payroll with total annual salaries of $9,374,263,000—a reduction of 186,238 employees and a yearly saving of $612,123,000. It could and should have been a reduction of twice that much.

Count Blessings
In the face of the grumbling we hear on all sides, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, says we should count our many blessings. He lists our blessings as follows:
More than 62 million Americans are working at jobs of their own choosing. Fifty five percent of the 47 million American families own their own homes; Americans have savings of $80 billion in life insurance policies; Americans have $25 billion in retirement pension funds; Americans have almost $50 billion in U. S. Savings bonds; Burden-some wartime Government controls no longer hamper or restrict us; there is a noticeable return of confidence of Americans in our Government and in each other; our ability and strength to do whatever may be required of us is again in evidence. The nation has made the change from a wartime economy without major economic upset; Inflation has been stopped, and the dollar has been stabilized.

Sound Political Doctrine
The following courageous message was sent out to his fellow countrymen by Hon. William McKinley February 14, 1893, after the Republican defeat in the election of November, 1892:

"The Republican party values its principles no less in defeat than in victory. It holds to them after a reverse, as before, because it believes in them, and believing in them is ready to battle for them. They are not espoused for mere policy, nor to serve in a single contest. They are set deep and strong in the hearts of the people, and are interwoven with its struggles, its life and its history. Without discouragement our great party reaffirms its allegiance to Republican doctrine, and with unshakable confidence seeks again the public judgment through 'public discussion.'"

Cool Hens Lay More Eggs, Says Poultry Expert

Hot hens don't make such hot layers. Don Bray, extension specialist of poultry at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says anything you can do to keep your hens cool on hot days will pay in more and better eggs.

Here are a few things that can happen to a hen when the thermometer climbs above 90-95 degrees.

Her body temperature may go up 2 or 3 degrees. She may eat only half as much feed as she normally would. She may drink twice as much water if it's available. The size of her eggs may drop 10 percent. Shell thickness may go down by 20 percent or more.

Bray suggests having plenty of cross ventilation to permit air movement in the house and removable windows close to the floor in front of the house all help. Keep nests away from the walls.

Keep heat out of the house by insulating the ceiling and ventilating the loft. Seal off the loft with insulation board, or use a layer of straw on wire screen tacked to the underside of the joists. You can also put a coat of aluminum paint on the roof to reflect the sun's rays.

Provide plenty of cool, clean water with an automatic watering system. Sprinkling a little milk or water on the feed will help get the birds to eat. But don't wet down more than they can eat in a few hours, because wet feed will mold quickly in hot weather.

NEWS LETTERS FOR FARMERS
There is plenty of good eating ahead for people who like juicy steak and roast beef. These tasty treats will come from the cattle that farmers will be fattening for market during the next few months.
On April 1 farmers in 14 major feeding states had more than 4½ million cattle on feed, according to the USDA. This number is 12 percent more than were on feed a year ago and it is about 10 percent more than two years ago, which was the previous record high for this time of the year.
The most spectacular increase in cattle feeding is in California, where some 318,000 head were reported in feedlots on April 1. This number is 54 percent more than were on feed there one year before. California, however, had only 7 percent of the total cattle on feed in the 14 major feeding states.
Corn Belt. Illinois farmers had an estimated 555,000 head of cattle on feed — 11 percent more than one year before. Nine corn-belt states reported 3,671,000 head — 8 percent more than last year.
Look for plentiful market supplies of fed cattle through May and June. Of the cattle on feed April 1, farmers intended to sell 45 percent before July 1 compared with 43 percent last year. Farmers in the three leading states, Iowa, Illinois and Nebraska, indicated that they would sell about one million fat cattle before July 1 — 17 percent more than were planned last year. However, actual marketings probably will not show such a large increase as is indicated by farmers' intentions. Expected marketings after July 1 are indicated to be up about 7 percent from last year.

from the report of cattle on feed April 1:
Inshipments. Shipments of cattle into the corn belt during the first three months of this year were 11 percent larger than during the same period a year ago.
Number Started on Feed. Farmers in the three leading states, Iowa, Illinois, and Nebraska, put 10 percent more cattle on feed during the three months than they did last year.
Weights. The increase in numbers being fed consists entirely of cattle weighing less than 1,100 pounds. Numbers weighing over 1,100 pounds show a reduction of about 12 percent from last year. However, these heavy weights make up only about four percent of the total cattle fed in these three states.
Kinds on Feed. Most of the increase in cattle on feed consists of steers, but the largest percentage gains were recorded for heifers. Numbers of steers on feed in the three states were estimated at 1½ million head or 6 percent more than last year. Numbers of heifers on feed were estimated at 382,000 head, 23 percent more than a year before. Calves on feed were estimated at 485,000, 12 percent more than were being fed on April 1 last year.
Time on Feed. In the three leading states, only about 72,000 cattle, 30 percent less than last year, had been on feed more than six months; 1,446,000 head or 12 percent more than last year had been on feed three to six months. The number on feed less than three months is estimated at 381,000 head or 18 percent more than last year.
Some of the prospective increase in marketings of fed cattle may be offset by smaller supplies of cheaper beef and by increased consumer demand. Even so, it appears that the seasonal decline in prices of choice cattle may carry into the early summer, while prices for the middle and lower grades may not rise as much as usual this spring.

YOUTH SPEAKS

By Lou Ann Rockrohr
The night finally arrived, April 20 the Tinley Park Girls' Basketball Team were ready and anxious to taste that delicious fried chicken at Surma's Restaurant. The occasion—the banquet of the South West Suburban Girls Basketball league. Approximately 73 people attended the banquet.

Our evening was started with grace and a short welcome by our secretary, Phyllis Bettenhausen, then came the meal. It was enjoyed by every one, I'm sure.

After everyone finished eating there came the happiness for some and not so much happiness for others. The beautiful trophies were awarded by Phyllis Bettenhausen, secretary and Bill Bingham, president of the league.

First place was awarded to North Harvey and Kankakee and Lansing were tied at the time of the banquet for second place. The play off was held last week and Lansing came through with a victory, defeating Kankakee by a margin of two points. Even though the Tinley Girls didn't receive a trophy we are proud to be in fourth place and sincerely hope for better luck at the trophies next year.

Bill Bingham conducted the program for the evening and did a wonderful job.
On behalf of all the Tinley Basketball girls and myself, we wish to express our appreciation to our coach, Bill Bingham and his assistant Norm Rhyer for their patience in getting our team started and to Mr. McCarthy and the Teen Canteen for making it all possible. Most of all our sincere thanks goes to the entire management staff for the beautiful Camellia corsage we were all surprised with when we arrived at the banquet.

by Rae Moschel
Teen Canteen are striving for membership of 100. Anyone graduated from grade school may join. Come to the VFW hall any Thursday evening and meet the young people who are enjoying the privileges of a membership.

Many of the 4th, 5th and 6th graders at the Tinley Park school are excited over the prospect of appearing in the operetta "Hansel and Gretel", to be given in the school auditorium May 20.

The cast has now been completed. The principals who have been chosen are: Richard Zaw-adski, Beverly Cannon, Kay Swisher, Marietta Kluge, Carol Zarembo and Bill Tindall.

The supporting cast consists of "The Gingerbread Children" made up of 4th, 5th and 6th graders, and the "Fourteen Angels," made up of 6th graders. There has been a great deal of preparation for the operetta, and everyone is looking forward to the presentation with great expectation.

Miss Ann Dowling's class, of room 303, is planning a trip to the Field museum.
The class is giving daily reports on the humming bird, and plans to collect some humming birds to display and study in the room.

Room 303 has been learning square dancing and hopes to square dance for the school soon. They know eight dances now and will know many more before they are through.

by Bonnie Bettenhausen
The fifth grade pupils of room 302, Mrs. Florence Phillips' class, are still enjoying their work on birds. They plan to take a birdhike sometime next week if the weather permits.
David Watkins is home with the mumps.

Posted on the bulletin board in room 302 are pictures of the children's trip to the airport and of the miniature airport which they constructed.

by Wesley Grant
All winter basketball has been played in the Tinley Park school and now intramural softball has begun. The first games were played last week.
Games will be played by the teams and team captains until school lets out in June. The games are being played so that the children will have more activity in sports. The children will play outside on the school's black top.

A baseball diamond has been painted and has base lines of regulation length. The games will be played during lunch hour every Monday, Wednesday and Friday under the direction of W. J. Kostelci, the gym teacher.

by Carol Townsend
The two seventh grades, room 200 and room 102 of the Tinley Park school, have just finished making banking scrap books in arithmetic. The scrap books explain the services of the bank, how to deposit money, and how to write a check. The two classes are now learning how to measure and construct angles.

by Fran Swisher
Miss Jacqueline Rodenbush, Tinley Park school music teacher, is conducting a record contest for the sixth, seventh and eighth grades to be held for the next three weeks.

Each week Miss Rodenbush will play a record for each class give her pupils the name of the composition and its composer, let them study the music and note the highlights.

After three weeks a contest will be held in the individual rooms. The person identifying all or the most records correctly will be eligible for the finals which will be held in exactly the same manner. The finals will be for all room winners.

The six persons winning the finals will go to Chicago, escorted by Miss Rodenbush for an entire day of viewing motion pictures, baseball games, stage plays, concerts or what ever they wish. Runners up will receive cash prizes.

by Suzanne Watkins
The Tinley Park school has been cleaning up. The school janitor, Robert Flagg, planted gladiolas and rosebushes to add to the appearance of the school last week.

They are planted at the front of the building which faces south. Mr. Flagg says he hopes the children will stay away from the plants and let them grow.

Tells How Wheat Growers Apply For Acreage Allotment

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain for any of the years 1953, 1954 and 1955 may apply for a 1956 wheat acreage allotment, according to Roy M. Smith, chairman of the Will county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee. To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC committee by Aug. 31, 1955.

Blank application forms are available at the county ASC office for use in filing requests for allotments. The new address of the Will county ASC office is 564 No. Chicago St., Joliet, Ill.

Camp at Palos Park Will be Opened to Children Next Month

A chance to combine the most exciting events of farm life and of summer camp is offered at the Foundation Farm Camp near Palos Park, 26 miles southwest of Chicago's loop. Milking of cows, garden work, feeding of chickens and pigs and helping with the haying are on the activity list. Horseback riding, group games, nature study and handicraft are taught at primary levels, yet practically.

Restricted to small groups of 7 to 11 year old children, the camp is interracial and interdenominational. In past years, children from Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish families have enrolled. National groups have included Chinese, Japanese, Greek and Spanish peoples.

The camping season begins the first week after Chicago schools are out in June and continues in two-week periods until the middle of August. Acceptance of campers is made only after an interview by the camp director and a medical examination by a doctor.

A folder telling about the camp can be obtained by writing to Paul T. Sanders, director, The Community Center Foundation, Palos Park.

Emptying coal cars quickly and efficiently requires Paul Bunyan methods. One now in use involves picking up the car and turning it over.
